

Interactive comment on “Evidence for biological shaping of hair ice” by D. Hofmann et al.

Anonymous Referee #1

Received and published: 16 April 2015

this is a very interesting manuscript that is well done and makes a very strong case for the role of fungi in hair-ice growth. Use of fungicides provided strong evidence. Good use of Mass spectral data to support the microscopy and temperature data Interactive comment on Biogeosciences Discuss., 12, 5293, 2015.

C1234