We completely agree with this comment and apologize for the erroneous title, which was conceived in a hurry when the editor requested a better title for publication in Discussions. Taking into account the replies from the reviewers we have now changed the title to "Potential future fisheries yields in shelf waters: a model study of the effects of climate change and ocean acidification". As suggested, we now avoid using "acidic" and instead use "ocean acidification". We thank Dr. Gattuso for correcting us. - Sonja van Leeuwen, on behalf of all co-authors
