Dear authors,

Thank you for this very interesting paper!

Since I wanted to read some more about the presence of aerenchyma in M. Caerulea, I was searching your reference list for the citation (Jaiswal et al., 2000) (cited on line 6-8 on page 2824). Unfortunately I could not find this reference in your list, and I was not able to find the article on Google scholar or Web of Science. Could you please provide me more info about this reference?

Kind regards, J. Pullens
