

Interactive comment on “Carbon dioxide emissions from an Acacia plantation on peatland in Sumatra, Indonesia” by J. Jauhainen et al.

R. Morrison

rdm11@le.ac.uk

Received and published: 15 September 2011

This paper presents a dataset that clearly stands out from previous studies on CO₂ emissions from drained tropical peats. It has addressed many of the inadequacies of previous studies, namely that a lot of measurements were obtained from numerous locations, and that measurements were made over more than one complete annual cycle. The approach taken to separating root and peat is also impressive.

Interactive comment on Biogeosciences Discuss., 8, 8269, 2011.