We received comments from two reviewers in the beginning of March and submitted our responses as short comments (SC) on March 18. Since there are no additional comments after that, we conclude that we respond to all review comments as described in our response (SC) on 18 March, i.e. clarify and revise text as suggested. Furthermore, we add information on distance classes of variance analysis and number of replicates per distance class in our manuscript as proposed by reviewer 2.
