First, several caveats— - I’m on extensive travel, and don’t really have time to work my way through this quite dense manuscript. - I’m not a sedimentologist/mineralogist, so not well-qualified to speak to the technical details.

That said, I thought this manuscript was well-done. It laid out the issues clearly, worked through the problem setup and execution, and did a good job of working towards answering the two main questions posed.
