Dear Hiroshi,

We are pleased to submit the revised version of our Research Article manuscript “Weaving of biomineralization framework in rotaliid foraminifera: Implications for paleoenvironmental reconstructions” (bg-2018-295), which received two reviews for Biogeosciences.

We appreciated the constructive criticisms and comments from the two reviewers, and we thank you for providing this opportunity for us to improve this manuscript and submit a revised version.

A point-by-point response to comments and all manuscript files are uploaded in the .ZIP files under responses to each reviewer comments.

We hope the present version is acceptable for publication in Biogeosciences.

Best regards,

Yukiko Nagai JAMSTEC
