

Interactive comment on “High resolution ^{14}C bomb-peak dating and climate response analyses of subseasonal stable isotope signals in wood of the African baobab – A case study from Oman” by Franziska Slotta et al.

Franziska Slotta et al.

ghelle@gfz-potsdam.de

Received and published: 11 September 2019

Datasets can be downloaded from the PANGAEA data base:

Slotta, F. et al. (2019): Normalized ^{14}C activity ratios (F14C) of an African baobab (Adansonia digitata) tree from Oman.
<https://doi.pangaea.de/10.1594/PANGAEA.905621>

Slotta, F. et al. (2019): Subseasonal $\delta^{13}\text{C}$ and $\delta^{18}\text{O}$ of tree-ring cellulose of an African baobab (Adansonia digitata) tree from Oman.

C1

<https://doi.pangaea.de/10.1594/PANGAEA.905625>

Slotta, F. et al. (2019): Tree-ring width indices (RWI) of an African baobab (Adansonia digitata) tree from Oman. <https://doi.pangaea.de/10.1594/PANGAEA.905619>

Best, Gerd Helle

Interactive comment on Biogeosciences Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/bg-2019-325>, 2019.