Fig. S1: Concentrations of stored gas samples and freshly prepared reference gas samples. The number listed is the slope of the stored gas concentrations calculated using linear regression with interactions; any significant difference to fresh gas is indicated with stars:  $p < 0.001$;  $p < 0.01$; * $p < 0.05$